

*Marcia Bronstein,
Regional Director, American Jewish Committee Philadelphia/Southern New Jersey*

Working in non-profit organization for more than a quarter-century, Marcia is Regional Director AJC Philadelphia/Southern New Jersey. She had been the Director of Development since 2008. Before that, she spent five years as a vice president at Jewish Community Centers of Greater Philadelphia and has worked, previously, at Martins Run Retirement Community, The National Liberty Museum, and for 14 years at the Jewish Federation of Greater Philadelphia, honing her skills all the while as a top-notch fundraiser for vital causes. Marcia holds a Master's degree in Social Work from New York's Wurzweiler School of Social Work; and a Bachelor's degree in sociology and education from State University of New York at Albany. Among her many civic affiliations, Marcia is a para Chaplin for Hospice at JFCS, a past Vice President of AJCOP, wrote a quarterly column for Prolog on Women's Issues, a founding member of the Tristate Institute, a past president of JPRO, a Wexner Heritage Fellow, Mandell Fellow for the CJF Executive Development Program, A FEREP scholar, a contributor to the Journal of Jewish Communal Service and active in the local Tri State JPRO group. Marcia is a Yiddish speaker and she and her husband, Eric Salmansohn, live in Melrose Park, PA, with their two children, Ross and Lia.