

German and Jews Together: In the Presence of the Past

Film Premiere and Panel Discussion

Wednesday, April 6, 2016, 6:30-8 pm

Goethe-Institut, 1990 K St NW #03, Washington, DC 20006 (Entrance on 20th Street)

You're invited to two film premieres starting with the multiple award-winning short film "German Shepherd" directed by Swedish filmmaker Nils Bergendal and narrated by New Yorker David Paul. The film tells the story of David Paul, son of a Holocaust survivor, and his encounters with Germans. Mr. Paul will be at the screening and available for Q&A.

The second film „Zurückkommen“ (Return) by French filmmaker Elodie Ferré follows six young Israelis who have immigrated to Berlin and shows how their lives are affected by the legacy of the past.

Following the showing, narrator David Paul, Action Reconciliation Service for Peace's volunteer at the American Jewish Committee Leonie Vandersee and Germany Close Up alumnus Gideon Culman will engage in a discussion with the audience on German-Jewish relations today, moderated by Action Reconciliation Service for Peace's program director Mark McGuigan.

We would be delighted to see you!
